

JUST LEADERSHIP

SIMON BARRINGTON
JUSTIN HUMPHREYS

JUST LEADERSHIP

Questions for discussion or reflection

Session 2: Just Me and Just Us?

What experiences might you have had that have challenged your concept of justice and motivated you to be more mindful of the injustice experienced by others?

How does your understanding of your whole self – your gifts, emotions, personality, values, beliefs and motivations – impact the way in which you lead?

Have you been fully open to the possibility that God might want to use your brokenness to lead you into a deeper understanding of his love for others?

In what ways have you appreciated that God's plan is that we do things together rather than on our own and that leadership requires the most skilful application of this to fully succeed?

Who have you surrounded yourself with and do they truly support you to live out and lead in a justice-focused way?

How good are you at offering your unique gifts and experiences to others with a desire to sacrifice yourself for the greater or common good? What might be some of the challenges in doing this?

